MURDERERS SENTENCED

TO BE HANGED DECEMBER 15TH

Doyle and Bennett the Brantford Criminals Condemned—Both Protested Innocence

Brantford, Oct. 2.—Justice Anglin Saturday morning sentenced Felix Doyle, and Joe Bennett, to be hanged December 15. A reserve case was asked for Doyle, but the judge refused to grant it, stating that the plea might be taken to the court of appeal. Doyle broke down under sentence, but Bennett was immovable. Both prisoners asserted their innocence.

LIBERAL CONVENTION

Will Be Held at Stony Plain on Saturday.

A Liberal convention for the Stony Plain Electoral District will be held at Miller's Hall, Stony Plain Centre on Saturday, October 7, at 2 p. m. Delegates will be present from all parts of the riding and a candidate will be nominated to contest the constituency in the coming elections.

C.P.R. TIME TABLE CHANGED.

C.P.R. passenger train south leaves Strathcona at 2:30 a.m. The train from the south arrives at Strathcona at 3:45 p.m. The train going south on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will not leave until the arrival of the train from the south.

RAILWAY COMMISSION COMING

The railway commission will arrive in the city this afternoon to investigate matters here requiring their attention. As sufficient time was not given to allow for the proper notice to the parties concerned it is probable the several cases now awaiting their judgment will not be heard on this visit. The commissioners will be taken over the ground and the general railway situation explained to them, that when the cases are presented, they may have full knowledge of the local circumstances.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT

There was a splendid house at the second concert given by Clark's orchestra in the rink last night, and no person could take objection to the behavior of the audience. There were no encores and the program was well adapted to the occasion. The orchestra rendered several selections in their usual good form: Mrs. O'Sullivan, of Calgary, sang two selections that were much enjoyed; Mr. A. E. Potter sang "Let me hide myself in Thee"; Walter Clark on the cornet and J. T. Richardson on the violin, pleased the audience with their numbers.

—Mr. James Frowde, of Peterborough, Ont., arrived on Sunday to visit his son A. E., who has been very ill. The doctors have advised Mr. Frowde that his son will have to be taken to the mountains, possibly Kamloops, to restore his health.

POLITICAL

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION FORMED.

A Liberal Association was organized at Golden Spike south of Stony Plain on Friday evening, September 29th, with the following officers: President, J. L. McDonald; vice president, H. Kuhl; secretary, John H. Foerster; working committee, Johann Trautmann, Philip Eberhardt, and Philip Trautmann. The following resolutions were passed:

"Resolved that we express our confidence in the Laurier Government of the Dominion.

"Resolved that we adopt the platform of the Alberta Liberal party."

The association pledges itself to support Mr. J. A. McPherson.

LIBERAL MEETING.

A meeting of Liberals was held at Lac Ste. Anne on Thursday last to elect delegates to the Liberal convention at Stony Plain Centre on Saturday next. The delegates chosen were P. Gunn, W. Yates, J. Anderson, and J. E. McConnell.

A Liberal association was formed with the following officers: Hon. Pres.—Rev. Father Lizze; President—J. Brewster; Vice president—Lovell Squire; Secretary—J. E. McConnell.

Committee—G. F. Kennedy, B. Letendre, W. Lee and W. Yates. Mr. J. A. McPherson of Spruce Grove, was present and addressed the meeting, being accorded a splendid reception.

BENNETT OBJECTS TO OPPOSITION.

Clareholm, Sept. 29.—Mr. Bennett addressed a meeting at Clareholm last night along the usual lines. Mr. Dickson, of Macleod, was present on behalf of Mr. McKenzie, the Liberal candidate, having been promised by the president of the Conservative association, of the electoral district, who had arranged the meeting, the privilege of reply to Mr. Bennett, and both Mr. Bennett and the candidate, Mr. Grier, had been notified of this by the president.

Mr. Bennett, however, refused point blank to give Mr. Dickson the privilege, and Mr. Dickson, after expounding the circumstances to the audience, left the platform and a lively meeting followed.

Mr. Bennett refused to pledge himself to any policy whatever with regard to the maintenance or abolition of the present school system, and the only answer he would give when asked if he declared it a part of his policy to sell the old numbered sections, was that Hon. Clifford Sifton had once suggested the same thing.

THE NEW PROVINCES

[From the Scotsman]

Yesterday was the official birthday of two new Provinces in the Dominion of Canada—Saskatchewan and Alberta. For purposes of public convenience the formal celebrations have been delayed till Monday, which is Labor Day in the Dominion, and is therefore held as a general holiday. The Governor-General, Earl Grey, and the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will then take part in the festivities at Regina, hitherto the capital of the North-West Territories, but now destined to be the capital of the province of Saskatchewan, as Edmonton is to be the capital of Alberta. The event is important for the Canadians; to the other British people and the outer world it marks a new step in the "course of Empire." It gives to the great North-West its proper place in the Dominion, and rounds off a process of colonial development which began with the confederation of Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in 1867, and which subsequently brought in Manitoba in 1870, British Columbia in 1871, and Prince Edward Island in 1873. The accession of the North-West to equal rights with the other provinces has been perhaps unduly delayed; but between 1882 and the date of organization of the Territories, the progress of the country was slow and disappointing. It was then that the Liberal Government, under Sir Wilfrid Laurier, adopted a large and generous policy of development. Free lands and assisted immigration soon told their tale. From small beginnings the stream of newcomers has steadily increased, the settlers flocking not merely from the old country and Northern Europe, but in ever-increasing numbers from the United States. Today the population of the North-West is increasing at the rate of 2000 a week. These two new provinces, each of them larger than France, are capable of supplying sufficient grain to satisfy the needs not only of the home country, but of the whole Empire. The virgin soil of Saskatchewan has all the qualities for wheat-growing which have made Manitoba famous and rich; Alberta offers ground for more diversity in agriculture. But in both provinces the fertility of the soil, combined with its cheapness, is proved beyond challenge. American farmers, comfortably settled in Minnesota and North and South Dakota, find that it pays them to sell out and transport themselves, with all their goods and chattels, to the valley of the Saskatchewan, where land can be got for from eight to twelve dollars an acre—a tenth of the price in the States, and the yield is 20 per cent. greater. The granting of autonomy to the North-West is, as we have said, a milestone in the onward march of Canada. Sir Wilfrid has described it as "perhaps the most important event in the political history of Canada since confederation in 1867." The two new Provinces embrace an area of some 550,000 square miles. The population of each is at present roughly estimated at a quarter of a million, but there is room for ten millions more. These figures suggest the extent of the potentialities of this grand wheat-producing country. For its rapid development the extension of the railways is of course essential; all the settlements at present are along the railway lines. But the Dominion Government takes a liberal view of its responsibilities, and the railway policy which has brought prosperity to Southern Manitoba is to be carried out further west. It is estimated that in ten years, if the railway extensions already authorized at an ultimate cost of some sixty millions be achieved, Canada will be almost as well served by railway mileage as the older countries. However that may be, it is evident that, so far as the Dominion Government is concerned, a generous policy is to be pursued in feeding and fostering the new Provinces by every legitimate aid. The development of these vast cereal-producing lands is of special interest in view of their becoming the main purveyor of the food of the mother country. The wheat crop alone is expected to reach 100 million bushels this year. This is not the place to raise questions of the dear loaf and the cheap loaf; but it is obvious that the expansion of Canada's grain surplus must tend in the long run to the further cheapening of British bread.

The New Treaty

Following are the terms of the new Anglo-Japanese treaty:

The preamble reads: "The governments of Great Britain and Japan, being desirous of replacing the agreement concluded between them January 30, 1902, by fresh stipulations, have agreed upon the following articles, which have for their object:

A.—Consolidation and the maintenance of general peace in the regions of eastern Asia and India.

B.—The preservation of the common interests of all the powers in China by ensuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese empire and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China.

C.—The maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting powers in the regions of eastern Asia and India, and the defence of those special interests in the said regions."

The text of the treaty follows: Article 1.—It is agreed that whenever, in the opinion of either Great Britain or Japan, any of the rights and interests referred to in the preamble to this agreement are in jeopardy, the two governments will communicate with one another fully and frankly and will consider in common the measures which should be taken to safeguard those menaced rights or interests.

Article 2.—Should either of the high contracting parties be involved in war in defence of its territorial rights or special interests, the other party will at once come to the assistance of its ally, and both parties will conduct the war in common and make peace in mutual agreement, with any power or powers involved in such war.

Article 3.—Japan, possessing paramount political, military and economic interests in Korea, Great Britain recognizes Japan's right to take such measures for the guidance, control, and protection of Korea, as she may deem proper and necessary to safeguard and advance those interests providing the measures so taken are not contrary to the principles of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations.

Article 4.—Great Britain, having a special interest in all that concerns the security of the Indian frontier, Japan recognizes her right to take such measures in the proximity of that frontier as she may find necessary for safeguarding the Indian possessions.

Article 5.—The high contracting parties agree that neither will, without consulting the other, enter into a separate arrangement with another power to the prejudice of the objects described in this preamble.

Article 6.—As regards the present war between Japan and Russia, Great Britain will continue to maintain strict neutrality, unless some other power or powers join in hostilities against Japan, in which case Great Britain will come to the assistance of Japan, will conduct war in common and will make peace in mutual agreement with Japan.

Article 7.—The conditions under which armed assistance can be offered by either power to the other in the circumstances mentioned in the present agreement and the means by which such assistance shall be made available, will be arranged by the naval and military authorities of the contracting parties, who will from time to time consult fully and freely on all questions of mutual interest.

Article 8.—The present agreement shall be subject to the provisions of article 6, and come into effect immediately after the date of signing and remain in force for ten years from that date, in case neither of the parties shall have been notified twelve months before the expiration of said ten years of an intention of terminating it. It shall remain binding until the expiration of one year from the date on which either of the parties shall have denounced it, but if when the date for the expiration arrives, either ally is actually engaged in warfare, the alliance shall be ipso facto, and continue until peace shall be concluded."

We have a contented little community of our own, that is not worried by outside conditions. The wholesome, country-town life that we live, tells in the quality of our work.

Every employee in my factory has his whole heart in his work. From the oldest workman, who started with me when I had a small room for a factory, a big bunch of enthusiasm and a high idea of quality, down to the lad who just joined us the other day, every one is putting the best that is in him into his work.

Under such conditions it is no wonder that my Pharaoh is the best ten cent smoke on the market. We are all working with the one object—to produce the best cigar possible.

I go to Cuba every year and buy the best tobacco produced. I know that every leaf that comes to my factory is right. My workmen see that every roll they give it will help make it a perfect, even-burning smoke. Its a combination that's hard to beat.

ONE VIEW OF THE AMERICAN INVASION

(By J. Oliver Curwood in the World's Work)

When the Canadian Liberals began their campaign and secured 35,000 settlers and their families from the United States, in 1900 and 1901, a partisan war began in Canada which has kept the Dominion in a ferment of dissension and has aroused feelings of resentment in England. When the 35,000 pioneers who entered Canada from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and the Western States, were followed in 1902 by 10,000 others, the Conservatives raised the cry that the Government in power was determined to sink Canadian individuality under a flood of immigration from across the border. During the last two years this alarm has spread, although the Liberals have maintained their political ascendancy.

Now the immigration question has reached a climax. It takes only three years for an immigrant to earn a vote in Canada, and 75,000 former American voters will soon come into their Canadian suffrage. There are in round numbers 190,000 males more than eighteen years of age in Western Canada, who formerly lived in the United States, 150,000 of whom are old enough to vote. There are now between 750,000 and 800,000 settlers, with a possible voting population of 240,000, a high percentage because many cattlemen without families are immigrating from Montana and Wyoming. By the end of 1905 the American vote in the Canadian west will be overwhelming.

In eastern Canada thousands of people believe that this invasion means the ultimate annexation of Western Canada by the United States. The Liberals, however, calmly argue that the Americans will make good British subjects. But to arrive at the true state of affairs, one should study the "coming nation" from Winnipeg to the mountains of westernmost Alberta. One will then see that the fears and the hopes of both Liberals and Conservatives are in many ways wrong. The investigator will be satisfied that it is not Canada's destiny to become annexed to the United States, but that rather a new nation will be born in the west, formed of the very flesh and blood of the United States.

To see how American settlers in Canada feel on this subject, one must live in their homes, eat at their tables, participate in their sports, talk with the women and little children. Anywhere from Winnipeg for nearly 1,000 miles along the Canadian Pacific this can be done. Over this stretch the population of the town and country is more generally American than that of the State of New York. Many of the towns have American Reeves and councils made up of men who three or four years ago were tilling fields or keeping stores in the United States. These people form a striking contrast to the people in the eastern provinces where French sloppiness and inactivity still prevails in many parts.

No city in the Dominion is more prosperous than Edmonton, which a few years ago was only a bit of prairie land. Every town is hustling with American spirit. The west has twice the land and twice the possibilities of the old Canada east of Manitoba. Within a few years the tail is bound to wag the dog, and Americans are hurrying the country on to that day.

In Alberta the results of the American invasion are astonishing. Between Calgary and Edmonton, a distance of 200 miles, one may travel along the line of the railroad from house to house, and five out of every six people encountered are Americans. Thirty thousand people have settled the country between these two towns. Both Calgary and Edmonton are hustling American cities, and so are a score of smaller towns, ranging northward from the Montana border. Alberta is the "Wild West" of the Dominion. Across the border from Montana and Idaho have flocked hundreds of cattlemen. It is common to see wagon trains of them coming down from the foothills of the Rockies into the sunny plains of Alberta. Half a million head of cattle have been brought over in this way, and 10,000 cattlemen and cowboys now range over the region. They build no fences and confine themselves to no special territories. Their cattle range like buffalo. But these Americans are far sighted, like their brethren along the railroads and in the towns. They foresee that in the near future the vast prairies will be homesteaded, and they have all taken claims and are working toward citizenship. Many of them already vote.

These men unlike the farmers from Michigan or Ohio, "come with guns on their shoulders," and many shout loudly that it will not be long before Canada will become a part of the United States. But Americans of this type form only a small percentage of the total number in Alberta. In places it is true, the nationality of candidates has won or lost for them. Some Americans now hold office by grace of the fact that they were born and raised in the United States. But, on the whole, one is struck with the unprejudiced character of the voting.

Already there is a growing aristocracy. Many farmers who live far from towns move into them during the winter. Medicine Hat is now the Newport of Canada's prairie lands. During the recent winter ranchmen and farmers moved in from 75 miles around, and for more than four months the city was constantly enlivened by social events. Up to March 1905, ranchmen and nearly twice as many winter growers had built winter homes there, some as fine as one would see on a fashionable street in a large American city. The farmers and ranchmen also gather in the winter at Edmonton, Calgary and other college towns. All of these things are tending toward the upbuilding of a new nation.

"Look at that house," said a Manitoba farmer who took up a homestead four years ago. It was a comfortable, modern dwelling to which he called attention, but near it was another building, a rough shanty made of logs and boards, with a grass-thatched roof.

"Four years ago," he said, "I lived in a house with a $2,500 mortgage hanging over me. Taxes and interest were eating me up. I came up here got 160 acres of land as a gift from the Canadian Government, and for two years my family and I lived in that shack. Now I own that house and every board in it is paid for. Eighty acres of my land are under cultivation. My wife and my children are well fed and well clothed for the first time in years. So we want to be annexed I guess not!"

This is the spirit that one constantly meets. Last year 110,000,000 bushels of grain were harvested in Western Canada—an average of 140 bushels for every man, woman, and child. It is not unreasonable that Americans should love this country. I have met men who today would fight for it. Four or five of the Americans while not overjoyed at being the subjects of a king, would vote against annexation to the United States. They are content to remain British subjects until the time comes for the birth of another great commonwealth.

Municipal ownership is triumphant and liquor question is handled better than anywhere else in the world. Edmonton has a municipal telephone system. Work has already been begun on an electric railway that will tap the surrounding prairie lands for fifty miles on all sides, and this system will undoubtedly come under legislative control. When completed it will be without a rival in Canada.

The single-tax idea of Henry George has also been adopted in Edmonton, and a number of other towns are planning to adopt it. "Where you find clean saloons you'll find clean politics," said a Calgary man to me. "For nine years I voted in an Ohio city and only once in that time did my candidate win, and every time I voted for the clean man. But I was up against the saloon element. Here we have no saloon element."

He then made an unsuccessful effort to shoot the bridegroom and turned the pistol on himself, inflicting fatal injuries. The police are acting in the case.

CARNEGIE WRITES ON PEACE
Paris, Sept. 26.—The Echo de Paris prints an article this morning signed by Andrew Carnegie in which the writer argues in favor of an alliance of the United States, France and Great Britain for safeguarding the peace of the world. The author designates the countries named as the three republics, two uncrowned and one crowned.

RESPIRE IN HUNGARIAN POLITICS

Buda-Pest, Sept. 26.—It is believed by well informed persons that General Baron Fejervary will be appointed premier with the right to carry on elections with a platform calling for universal suffrage and by this means a Government majority will be secured in the Hungarian diet. Quiet has been restored.

UNEARTHING GRAFT

New York, Sept. 26.—Alfred W. Martin, an associate auditor of the Equitable Life Assurance Society today disclosed the fact that the Equitable Life, Mutual Life and New York Life companies had formed a pool to look after legislation between various State Legislatures. Andrew Hamilton, to whom President Mitchell of this New York Life paid several cheques, the purpose of which chief counsel for the committee, Mr. Hughes, has not yet brought to light, was one of the chief members of the staff for these companies and was employed and received money from the Equitable.

RUSSIA ALARMED

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—The first comment heard here on the Anglo-Japanese treaty can be conservatively characterized with the word "alarming." It was fully expected that it would prove to be a very significant and important document. The first study not only confirms this view but strengthens it.

It is too soon yet to give any full report of how it was received in Russia, and when officials were questioned on the subject today the invariable answer was that it was too soon to express an opinion in such a weighty and important matter, but there was no doubt that the first opinion of the treaty is a fearsome one. It is considered to be most broad and far reaching. The use of the terms "protection of common interests, and measures which should be taken are regarded here as being open to any interpretation the signatories desire to give them. Also coupled with the words "east Asia," apparently applying to all Asia east of India, including the East Indian Islands and Indo-China. They are considered to prove conclusively that the signatories purpose to act in the part of the world specified with the freest kind of a hand. This conviction cannot but create alarm in Russia.

TROUBLE IN CUBA.

Havana, Sept. 29.—Jose T. Miguel Gomez, governor of the province of Santa Clara, who was nominated by the Liberals for the presidency, has resigned his candidacy. In letters to the executive committee of his party, Governor Gomez says: "It is impossible to continue the campaign within the bounds of the law. The government has won a complete and overwhelming victory. With Liberals by the hundreds in jails, and with the rifles of armed forces, and even the dangers of hired assassins, against the breasts of unarmed voters, the problem confronting me is whether I should continue to lead my followers to the polls and permit them to become the victims of this sort of treatment."

"One other road is open, that followed by other nations in analogous circumstances, namely, the right of revolution, but Cuba stands in a peculiar position, as an armed conflict would inevitably bring foreign intervention. Before this was accomplished, however, our material prosperity would run a grave danger, and property, which is too a great extent in foreign hands, would be destroyed while the neutral elements would suffer."

"Therefore, I, who had the courage to rebel against Spain, which was a hundred times stronger than Palma's government, decline to accept the responsibility of plunging the country into war, least of all at a time when there might be the slightest suspicion that I had done so to satisfy my personal ambitions for the presidency."

"I am a Cuban soldier. I love order and peace, and prefer to leave my opponents the sombre glory of their triumph along the criminal path where they have slain Cuban liberties. For these reasons, I tender my party to accept this irrevocable resignation."

Senor Zayas, the Liberal candidate for president, said tonight that a Liberal convention would probably be called for next Sunday.

AT THE BUSY FORT

Work Progressing on C. N. R. Bridge and Station

Fort Saskatchewan is the centre of considerable activity at the present time. A short distance west of the ferry the new bridge is in course of construction and a trestle about 1600 feet long is being built from the high bank to the water's edge, on the north side of the river. The timbers for this are fast being placed and work has commenced upon the cement piers in the river bed. On the south side the bank is close to the river and a very short trestle will suffice.

The C. N. R. are putting up a new station house, which is nearing completion, and being centrally located, will add considerably to the up-to-date appearance of the town. Four switches will give good accommodation for elevators, freight sheds, warehouses, and the necessary shunting in the working of trains.

Situated in the centre of an excellent grain growing country the Fort is prospering and will continue to prosper in a way that will surprise the most sanguine.

CALGARY WANTS COMMISSIONERS

Calgary, Sept. 20.—The following motion was unanimously agreed upon by the members of the special committee on city management by a commission, which met last night for the first time in Short & Stuart's office. They arrived at this conclusion after two hours of discussion, viewing the subject from various standpoints and taking into account the various difficulties.

"The committee, after thoroughly considering the motion referred to, is in favor of establishing a Board of Commissioners, to whom shall be transferred all the executive work of the several standing committees and of the City Engineers, under bylaw 332 and 499, and who shall be responsible to the council."

"The committee is in favor of making these changes for the present under the powers given by Sec. 117, Sub-Sec. 1 and 56 (1) and (2) of the city charter, so that the changes can come into effect as soon as the necessary bylaws are prepared and passed, and the committee are of the opinion that these proposed bylaws should be placed in the city charter by a provincial statute at the first session of the legislature."

With regard to the constitution of the Board of Commissioners, the committee is of the opinion that the city engineer and the City Clerk should be two members of the board, but as to the remaining member or members, and as to whether the mayor should be a member or a third person appointed, the committee has not reached a conclusion.

"The City Solicitor is requested to draft the necessary bylaws as far as possible under the points agreed upon, and submit them to another meeting."

Golden Michaels, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. Michaels, of Agricola, was thrown from her horse on Tuesday evening, and broke the bone of the right upper arm, besides sustaining a badly bruised head. Two years ago she had her left forearm broken from a similar accident.

Mr. W. J. Hobbs, of the Union Bank staff, has been transferred to Calgary, and left the Fort yesterday. While glad to learn of his promotion, his many friends in this town are sorry to lose him, and the "Reporter" joins with them in wishing him the best of luck and prosperity.

Local real estate agents report a move in property and that the outlook for the coming months is very encouraging. Seeing the harvesting of the record crop this year, investors are realizing that land values are certain to rise.

LOCAL

—Passenger traffic was exceptionally heavy from the south on Saturday.

—The Ladies Aid of St. Joseph's church will give a progressive pedro party in Robertson's hall tomorrow evening.

—The Regina Standard announces that Dr. Chown is being sent out by church to take on hand in the Saskatchewan elections.

—Mrs. Kerr and Miss McAmmond of Alberta College, sang a very acceptable duet at the evening service in McDougall Methodist church last night.

—Mrs. Dr. Hishop will hold her post-natal reception at her home on May street on Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday afternoon, October 2 and 4.

—Mr. H. Williams, well known in the city, has secured a position as overseer and time keeper, with Contractors May and Sharp on the Fort Saskatchewan bridge.

—The machinery for the Brackman-Kerr elevator at Fort Saskatchewan, arrived there on Friday. Contractor H. A. Woodward is confident that the elevator will be in operation this season.

—Before Dr. Wade, J.P. at the R.N. W.M.P. barracks, on Saturday night, Mr. Storey sued Geo. Moses of Stony Plain for wages. Case was dismissed with costs to complainant. C. F. Newell acted for defendant.

—Five dollars fine and four dollars and seventy-five cents costs was imposed on Kenna Sing for attempting to serve a Gaietan girl in the Edmonton hotel kitchen on Friday morning. A wage case was settled out of court.

—The next meeting of the Northern Alberta Medical association will be held on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 12th, the hospital ball occurring on the date of the regular meeting, Oct. 5th. At the regular meeting in September an excellent paper on Herpes Foster was presented by Dr. Green of Strathcona.

—Notwithstanding the reported scarcity of prairie chicken this season one was seen sitting on the sidewalk on Jasper avenue at the corner of Seventh st. just at dusk Friday evening. Several were seen along the trail from the Fort Saturday morning and declined to be flushed on the approach of travellers.

—While escorting a lady home from dinner on Sunday evening, a young man had the misfortune to fall into a sewer ditch at the corner of Victoria avenue and Sixth street. There was no lantern or danger signal and the contractor, R. R. Whiteman is being asked to pay for a new suit of clothes.

—A prairie chicken flew through the plate glass window of Cameron's on Sunday morning. Mr. Cameron was advised that the window had been broken and getting Mr. Lee proceeded to the store where they found the still warm body of a chicken inside. The window was not insured and is a total loss.

—There is a rumor current on the street this morning that the New Hudson Bay subdivision had been sold in Winnipeg en bloc. The Bulletin is informed that this is entirely incorrect, the property that were to be sold in small blocks that were to be reserved in any case. The subdivision will be put on the market very soon.

—The trail from Edmonton to Fort Saskatchewan is in a disgraceful condition, particularly that part between Edmonton and the Halfway House. There are several spots where in broad daylight a horse might easily break a leg. The tandem team conveying Sir Frederick and the Misses Borden, on their eastward trip, took one of these holes at a jump, and Sir Frederick and party can tell all about it. At another spot a broncho, in the lead team kicked the croaker off.

—William Briggs' full list of novels includes some of uncommon interest. Among these a new story by Mr. Rider Haggard, no less than a sequel to "She," to which he has given the title of "Ayahs." It will be interesting to see if through the long interval since "She" took the reading public by storm Mr. Haggard has lost any of his power to interest and enthrall. A new story by Kate Douglas Wiggin (Mrs. Riggs), entitled "Rose of the River," will share the popularity of all this gifted authoress's books. Geo. Barr McCutcheon, author of "Gruentark," makes a new bid for popular favor with "Nedra." Joseph Hocking adds to his literary laurels with "Christs of the Lord." Others are "The Mystery of June 13th" by Melvin L. Severy; "Donalda, Canada's Countess," by Cousin Esme; L.N. R.L.: A Prisoner's Story of the Cross, by an anonymous writer; "A Doomed Mission" by Charles Sparrow, and "A Wolf in Sheep's clothing," by A. M. Delong.
